

STEPS TO SEARCH SUBJECT AREA BY JOURNAL

Scopus

STEP 1

The screenshot shows a Google search interface with the following elements:

- Search Bar: Contains the text "scopus".
- Navigation: Includes "All", "Images", "News", "Videos", "Books", and "More" tabs.
- Results: Shows "About 53,300,000 results (0.44 seconds)". The first result is for "https://www.scopus.com" with the title "Scopus". Below the title, it says "No information is available for this page." and "Learn why". A blue arrow points from the "Scopus" title to the "More images" button in the image preview.
- People also ask: A section with four questions: "What does Scopus stand for?", "Is Scopus for free?", "What is Scopus in research?", and "Is Elsevier and Scopus the same?". Each question has a downward arrow.
- Image Preview: A preview of the Scopus website showing the logo and a "More images" button.
- Text Snippet: Below the image preview, the text reads: "Scopus is Elsevier's abstract and citation database launched in 2004. Scopus covers nearly 36,377 titles from approximately 11,678 publishers, of which 34,346 are peer-reviewed journals in top-level subject fields: life sciences, social sciences, physical sciences and health sciences. Choose Source Title
